WHY DO WE HAVE A COOKIE POLICY?

This policy is in accordance with our obligations under French law, specifically the French Data Protection Act (Loi Informatique et Libertés), the EU's General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), and the specific guidelines issued by the French Data Protection Authority (Commission Nationale de l'Informatique et des Libertés - CNIL). These regulations require us to be transparent about the cookies we use and to obtain your explicit consent before placing any non-essential cookies on your device.

WHAT ARE COOKIES?

A cookie is a small text file that a website saves on your computer or mobile device when you visit the site. Each time you return, your browser sends the relevant cookie(s) back to the website's server, allowing it to recognize you.

YOUR CONSENT FOR COOKIES

Under French law, your active and explicit consent is required before we can place non-essential cookies on your device. When you first visit our website, you will be presented with a cookie banner that allows you to:

- Accept all cookies.
- Reject all cookies.
- Personalise your choices.

Continuing to browse our website is not considered a valid form of consent. We will only place analytical cookies on your device after you have given your clear, affirmative consent. You can change your mind and withdraw your consent at any time, just as easily as you gave it, through our cookie management tool.

THE COOKIES WE USE

We use the following types of non-essential cookies, subject to your prior consent:

Google Analytics

We use Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, to track and report on website traffic. These cookies help us measure our audience, understand user behaviour (such as which pages are most popular), and analyse how our site is used. This information is collected in a way that does not directly identify you and helps us to improve our website and the services we offer. These cookies will only be activated if you consent to them.

You can disable tracking by Google Analytics with future effect by downloading and installing the Google Analytics Opt-out Browser Add-on for your current web browser.

HOW TO MANAGE COOKIES

You can manage your cookie preferences at any time.
